Enjoying the open house were Jaclyn and YSC Executive Director Dave Kietzman;

YSC Director of Development Melissa Khamvongsa and Jennie Carey, YSC community schools coordinator;

The nonprofit organization Youth Speak Collective (YSC) has expanded its offices, and recently moved its headquarters to the City of San Fernando. The new headquarters were presented recently at an open house. YSC will continue to maintain office space in Pacoima, which includes its Creative Tech Center and Organizing Offices. YSC offers programs focusing on youth development, crime prevention, and educational services to eight middle schools and high schools in the northeast San Fernando Valley.
