youth speak collective moves into the neighborhood

Last week, San Fernando gained another bragging right: Youth Speak Collective (YSC) moved into the neighborhood. The nonprofit, which focuses on leading at-risk youth in the northeast Valley to higher education, was formerly based in Pacoima.

YSC recently raised over $50,000 through the support of community donations at the first annual Gala Celebration. They'll be using those funds as they continue their work in San Fernando with various programs, including some in digital media and mural design.

You can now pay YSC a visit anytime you're taking a stroll on Brand Boulevard. Check out the new digs below.
